

First Announcement

International Symposium on Psychological vs Mathematical Approaches to Optical Illusion

Date: March 4 - 6, 2015

Place: Nakano Campus of Meiji University, Tokyo, Japan

Admission free (except for the banquet on March 5)

This symposium consists of invited talk and an exhibition of illusion displays. For the exhibition, we will call for displays ranging from 2D posters to 3D structures; visit our web page for the display proposals.

Invited Speakers

Stuart Anstis (University of California, San Diego, USA)

Simone Gori (University of Padua, Italy)

Makoto Ichikawa (Chiba University, Japan)

Masanori Idesawa (UEC Tokyo, Japan)

Hiroyuki Ito (Kyushu University, Japan)

Rob van Lier (Radboud University Nijmegen, The Netherland)

Baingio Pinna (University of Sassari, Italy)

Brian Rogers (University of Oxford, UK)

Sergio Roncato (University of Padua, Italy)

Arthur Shapiro (American University Washington D.C., USA)

Kohske Takahashi (The University of Tokyo, Japan)

Dejan Todorović (University of Belgrade, Serbia)

Speakers from Organizers

Akiyoshi Kitaoka (Ritsumeikan University, Japan)

Kokichi Sugihara (Meiji University, Japan)

Organizers:

Meiji Institute for Advanced Study of Mathematical Sciences

JST, CREST Project on Computational Illusion

Organizing Committee :

Kokichi Sugihara (Meiji University, Chair), Akiyoshi Kitaoka (Ritsumeikan Univeristy, Vice Chair), Yasushi Yamaguchi (The University of Tokyo), Kazuhiro Ueda (The University of Tokyo), Homei Miyashita (Meiji University), Akiyasu Tomoeda (Musashino University), Haruaki Fukuda (The University of Tokyo), Hiroshi Ueda (The University of Tokyo) Hideki Todo (The University of Tokyo)

<http://compillusion.mims.meiji.ac.jp/en/TSOI2015.html>